Directors of the McKinney Chamber of Commerce made their monthly reports at the Board meeting held Tuesday afternoon in the CC office. President A. H.. Eubanks presided and welcomed members and guests, and Manager Pat Simpson read minutes of previous meetings.

Following a report from Treasurer J. M. Whisenant, the committee chairmen gave lengthy reports concerning their activities the past month.

Heading the Legislative Committee, Frank W. In reporting on the recent Collin County Fair, Manager Simpson pointed out that some 12,000 persons attended the four-day event and that the premium list this year was increased over previous years due to additional exhibitors. The quality of exhibits surpassed those of previous years, and the over-all results were, a most successful exposition. Collin County is one of the very few counties in the state which still operates a "Free Fair" each year.

Boyd Williams announced favorable contacts made with industrialists in the interest of bringing more manufacturing plants to this area.

A recent meeting of the Industrial Foundation was held with stockholders of that newly formed organization. The original goal of $100,000 may not be attained, announced Chairman Whisenant, but the stockholders are in favor of going ahead with the organization and operate with whatever amount can be raised. J. E. Abernathy explained the process of organizing and chartering the Foundation.

The Greater McKinney United Fund campaign, now in progress to raise the 1958 budget of $24,860, is well-underway, according to Audie Turrentine, co-chairman for the drive. Funds For Memorial Tank Here Are Coming In Slow

Friends, the cash is coming in for our memorial army tank, but not fast enough, I fear, to enable us to get the tank here by Armistice Day. Starting next week a list will be published showing the names of those who have contributed toward this, and weekly thereafter an augmented honor roll will appear in this paper until we have the amount necessary. Turn your contribution, with your name, in to any bank in Collin County, as all of them are behind this idea of a memorial for our heroic dead. Don't forget to give your name, as we wish to keep it on file in this association forever.

Roy F. Hall
Collin County Historical Comm.

B. W. Penney of Blue Ridge will celebrate his birthday October 13. His host of friends there extend best wishes. Mrs. Beatrice Fagg, also of Blue Ridge will celebrate October 14. She teaches in the Blue Ridge school.

Dr. Quattlebaum Guest Speaker At Ladies' Meet

The Woman's Auxiliary to the Collin County Medical Society held their first meeting of the year on Tuesday, October 8 at the Recreation Room of the Collin County Bank Building.

Mrs. Marshall Searcy presided over a brief business session and the yearbooks were distributed. New members present were Mrs. Mac Hill, Mrs. W. J. Powell, Mrs. T. M. Trimble, Mrs. B. A. McReynolds, Mrs. Billy Ray Boring, Mrs. Harvey Truett and Mrs. Charles Shumway Sr.

Also welcomed to the Auxiliary were Mrs. Ray Reed, Mrs. Lloyd A. Merbitz, Mrs. Ann Hardy, Mrs. Russell Wilson, and Mrs. Elizabeth Wilson.

Guests of the Auxiliary were Mrs. Karl Shimansky and Mrs. T. E. Hardaway, the latter speaking to the group about plans for a well-child clinic for the Migrant Labor Camp at Princeton next Spring.

The Auxiliary was honored to have Dr. Emmett Quattlebaum as the speaker. His subject was "Cancer" and he outlined the work done and progress made on this scourge of mankind. He said its cause is as yet undetermined, and its treatment now consists of X-ray (Cobalt radium) therapy, chemical (chiefly against the Lukemias and Hodkins disease) and surgery. He warned that early detection could probably cut the present 50 percent death rate of diagonsed cancers in half, and gave these symptoms which should bring patients in to see their family doctor:

1. Unexplained bleeding from any arifice.
2. Tumors or growths of any kind.
3. Chronic indigestion.
4. Stomach or abominal cramps.
5. A change in bowel function when there has been no change in diet.
6. Abnormal growth or change in any skin lesion.
8. Discharge from the nipples whether bloody or not.
9. Chronic hoarseness.

Dr. Quattlebaum stated that the incidence of cancer has risen because people are living to be older, and after 40, people are more subject to cancer.

The members and their guests enjoyed refreshments of Brownies and coffee, served by the hostesses, Mrs. McReynolds, Mrs. Ray Bendel and Mrs. E. B. Harris. A striking flower arrangement of canna leaves and pink roses graced the serving table.

The next meeting will be at Apartment 115, at the Veterans Hospital with Mrs. George Edwards and Mrs. Robert Green as hostesses. Senator Ray Roberts will be the speaker.

School Board Sets Tax Rate

A tax rate of $1.28 per hundred dollars valuation has been set by the McKinney Independent School District board of trustees for 1958, Supt. Hailds Pearce has announced. The new rate represents a reduction of 22c per hundred under the present rate.

In making the announcement Mr. Pearce said that the board had made every effort to set the rate at lowest possible figure. He added that the new rate will provide sufficient revenue with which to retire bonds voted recently for the construction of a completely new high school building, bids for the basic unit of which will be opened and contracts awarded on November 5. The bonds will be sold on open bids on November 4.

Contracts for construction of the basic unit of the building will be let on the above mentioned date. Contracts for the addition of an auditorium and gymnasium will be let later.

Property valuation in the school district was set last week at $18,774,000 when the school equalization board completed its work and made its report.

The superintendent said that the school board sincerely appreciates the cooperation of property owners in making it possible for them to go ahead with plans for the erection of an adequate school building for McKinney boys and girls.

Collin Teachers Hold Meeting

Over a hundred members of the Collin County unit of the Texas State Teachers Assn. gathered at the West Ward Elementary School cafetorium for their first meeting of the new school year Monday evening and heard an interesting and informative address on Teacher Retirement by Frank Jackson of Austin, Executive Secretary of the system.

Supt. E. A. Sigler of Plano, president of the county unit, presided. Supt. Hailds Pearce of McKinney welcomed the guests and introduced a Boyd High School choral group which entertained the teachers with several selections. Mrs. Melba Davenport directs the choir.

The invocation was by County Supt. W. H. Moseley.

During a brief business session delegates and alternates to the annual State convention of TSTA were named as follows:

Delegates elected were Mr. Sigler, W. H. Moseley of McKinney, Hailds Pearce of McKinney and Everette McKinnis of Community Rural High School. Alternates are S. H. Wysong of McKinney, L. R. Huddleston of Princeton, Sam Barnes of Anna and W. M. Stribling of Frisco.

At the suggestion of Pres. Sigler, the entire group stood in a moment of silence in memory of three of their number who have passed away during the last year—J. T. Rollins, C. M. Duvall, both of McKinney, and Supt. Paul G. Henderson of Princeton.

Mr. Jackson told of the growth of the Teacher Retirement System and said that at present there are more than 130,000 members and the list is still growing. He outlined the various options available to teachers when retirement time arrives and told of the manner in which funds of the System are invested. A question and answer period followed the most interesting talk. Lyman D. Robinson introduced Mr. Jackson.

A delicious meal of baked ham, spiced peaches, baked potatoes, English Pea salad, French bread and chocolate cake and coffee was served by members of Mrs. George McCoy's homemaking class of Boyd High School. The cafeteria staff of West Ward prepared the meal.

Beautiful decorations that featured sprigs of orange Pyracantha in the center of the tables were prepared by members of the West Ward faculty. Candles were used and each candle was a miniature record book and pencil. Also at each plate consisted of a paper figure of "teacher," attached to which was a menu and the program for the evening. Favors were made by West Ward students and teachers.

The next meeting of the unit will be at Celina.

Census Divisions Established In Collin County

In a joint program with the State of Texas and each of its countries, the Bureau of the Census is establishing areas, known as "Census County Divisions," for use in statistical reporting. Similar areas were established in the State of Washington prior to the 1950 Census, and since 1950 have been put into effect in eleven other states.

August J. Nogara, a member of the Census Staff, is here from Washington to consult with county officials and solicit their advice in regard to the proposed areas for Collin County.

The proposed Census County Divisions should be particularly useful for local administrative purposes. The Census County Divisions are generally larger in area and population than the Justices' or Commissioner's precincts; they have clear-cut boundaries which can be easily identified; and they are intended to remain as permanent areas. For the most part, they are based on the communities which serve as the focal point of each area. The statistical data for these divisions will serve as a yardstick with which to measure the sphere of influence exercised by such communities. It is believed that the Census County Divisions will be a handy tool for the use of county officials, local newspapers, and business and civic organizations.

Mr. Nogara assures us that the county divisions set up by the Bureau of the Census will not interfere in any way with the use of Justices' or Commissioner's precincts by the State or counties.

For Census purposes Collin County has been divided into 11 Census County Divisions.

County Hospital Cornerstone Set

A large crowd of McKinney and Collin County residents joined the Masons in leveling the cornerstone of the County Hospital, now under construction in Northwest McKinney. The impressive ceremony was held at high noon under the direction of Grand Lodge officers.

The program was arranged locally by St. John's Lodge. Those participating in the ceremony as appointed by Paul Turney of Sonora, Most Worshipful Grand Master, who was Master of Ceremonies, were: Right Worshipful John C. Kemmerer, Deputy Grand Master; Right Worshipful William G. Proctor, Grand Senior Warden; Right Worshipful John T. Bean, Grand Junior Warden; Right Worshipful T. G. McBee, Grand Treasurer; Jim M. Lewis, Grand Secretary; Right Worshipful Obe F. McCallum, Grand Chaplain; Right Worshipful Wallace Hughston, Grand Senior Deacon; Right Worshipful Elbert Randles, Grand Junior Deacon; T. E. Hardaway, Grand Senior Steward; Sam Hodges, Grand Junior Steward; D. P. Brown, Grand Tiler; Bradford Russell, Grand Marshall and William S. Nichols, Grand Architect.

The Hon. Paul Turney used the symbolic tool of masonry and leveled the cornerstone after it had been declared as sound by other members of the Grand Lodge. Brother Turney expressed the appreciation of the Grand Lodge to the County Court and other citizens of Collin County for having been asked to level this cornerstone. He complimented the citizenry for having procured such an edifice which he pointed as a step toward furthering the principles and objects of masonry and general betterment of the community.

After the cornerstone was levelled, the Right Worshipful Kemmerer, made a short talk concerning Masonry in regard to this event. He named the tools of operative masonry that are employed in the levelling process and developed their true symbolic meaning so far as they were connected with Ancient Craft masonry in the building of character and the benefit of their attributes so far as community life is concerned. The tools of operative mason that were used were the plumb, square, and level.

Brother Kemmerer's speech contained many words of admonition for all Masons and the general public in that we should all strive to make the community a better place in which to live, and that this new County Hospital is a landmark for the actions we are taking. He closed his remarks with an expression of hope that we would always cherish this edifice and maintain and operate it in a manner becoming the type of citizenry that we represent.

Following the ceremonies the visiting officials were guests for luncheon at the Town House. Some thirty and local Masons were present.

SHEEP SHORT COURSE SET FOR OCTOBER 21-22 AT TEXAS A&M.

Fundamentals of sheep production and management will be stressed during a new short course at Texas A&M October 21-22.

Dr. T. D. Watkins, in charge of sheep for the Animal Husbandry Department at the college, said the Sheep Short Course will be the first of a series.

Much of the material to be discussed during the short course will be demonstrated at the department's Sheep Center, Dr. Watkins said. For example, during the first morning, participants will see demonstrations of correct methods in castration docking, ear tagging, drenching, facing, tagging, proper bagging of wool, and bag identification.

They also will see classes of fat lambs in the feed-lot, and later will see these same lambs after they have been butchered.

"This first course is designed primarily for the beginner, and is planned to give him the highlights of all essential information for sheep management," Dr. Watkins said. "Later courses will probe deeper into the problems and methods of more advanced management."

Most of the speakers in this first short course are members of the Texas A&M College System staff. They are:

Dr. Watkins; L. D. Wythe and John Todd of the Animal Husbandry Department; Maurice Shelton of the McGregor Substation, Agricultural Experiment Station; Prof. J. H. Jones and J. A. Gray of the Animal Husbandry Department; Stanley L. Davis, in charge of the Wool Laboratory for the Animal Husbandry Department; Roy W. Snyder, extension meats specialist; Dr. R. D. Turk of the School of Veterinary Medicine; and Dr. O. D. Butler, head of the Animal Husbandry Department.

Non-staff members include Jack Groff of Kerrville, and W. W. Humphreys, a Brazos county rancher.

LEAFLET AVAILABLE ON NEW WHITE-SEEDED SORGHUM HYBRID.

A white-seeded sorghum hybrid, showing a very favorable performance when compared with the other hybrids, has been developed by the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station and the U.S. Department of Agriculture. Seed will be available in limited quantity for the 1958 crop.

This new hybrid, RS 630, is the first white-seeded hybrid released by the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station. In 25 tests in nine states, it yielded 67 bushels per acre—higher than any of the other hybrids tested. It is a medium-early grain sorghum hybrid that matures in 90 to 100 days after planting. The head is well above the upper leaf and dries readily, thereby permitting harvesting soon after the grain is mature.

A recently released leaflet, L-362, gives detailed information on this new hybrid. It contains sections on parentage, yield record, production of certified seed and gives a complete description. This leaflet may be obtained from the Agricultural Information Office, College Station, Texas.

Collin 4-H Girl Competes In District Contest At Dallas

Carlena Marion, 15, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Marion of Allen modeled a lovely three piece all-cotton suit in the district contest at S.M.U. The suit was made of blue and black checked cotton material. The jacket was lined with a polished blue cotton and a lovely blouse made of the same material os the lining was worn with the suit. Carlena made a score of 119 out of 125 possible. The score had rated next to top in the district contest of 120 points. Carlena's rating was below the score for competing in the state contest only one point.

Four girls were selected from the district to compete in the state contest on October 5. The judges comment was, over-all tailoring very good. The judges also stated that her record was very neat which counted 25 points of the entire score. Very few remarks and criticism was made on this costume. This was an excellent garment and one that ony 15 year old girl can justly be proud of. Carlena's costume that she made and modeled cost her $10.20.

In her five years of club work, Carlena has made 26 garments which is a very good record.

Mrs. Carl Marion and Mrs. Lurline C. Daspit, home demonstration agent accompanied Carlena to the district dress revue. A lovely luncheon was served at noon for the girls, their mothers and the home demonstration agents.

Business Manager Keeps Schools Up

★

By H. D. MOUZON

The operation of a school system the size of McKinney Independent School District has become more and more complicated with passing years. Ever increasing enrollment in the various schools, the addition of new buildings, of much-needed classrooms in existing buildings; the installation of cafeteria service in all of the schools; the necessity of expanding transportation facilities to care for the needs of rural children whose homes have been taken into the district, and the large increase in personnel made necessary by these and other advances all have joined together to make the establishment of a separate department, known as the School Business Office, one of the outstanding forward steps taken by McKinney schools during the past several years.

In the past, all of the thousand-and-one details now handled efficiently by Business Manager Earl Slaughter and his associates, Malcolm Walters, bookkeeper, and Mrs. T. W. Sisterson, secretary, were taken care of by the school superintendent on the high school principal, leaving little time for these administrators to carry on the work of being superintendent and principal.

The McKinney school system now owns and operates nine school buildings, two gymnasiums and seven cafeterias and employs 170 people. Contracts will be let this month for a new and modern high school building. All this adds up to a sizeable operation.

All finances of the schools are channeled through the office of the business manager, and those are deposited and disbursed through eight separate funds as follows:

Local maintenance fund (local taxes, etc.); state and county available fund (money received from the Texas Education Agency for salaries, etc.); transportation funds; athletic; activity; cafeteria; interest and sinking funds, and plant improvement.

The office must keep accurate accounts of all funds as well as complete records as to salaries of employes, teacher retirement, withholding taxes and insurance premiums. Mr. Slaughter handles requisitions for equipment and supplies used in teaching; for any materials needed for maintenance work on the buildings; for cafeteria supplies; for athletic equipment, and for school bus operation All bills for supplies for absolutely everything in connection with the schools pass through the business manager's office.

A definite and efficient method of operation has been set up since the office was established a little more than three years ago, and it functions in the following manner:

When maintenance work is needed at a certain building, for example, the principal of that school makes requisition for whatever is needed in the way of materials. This requisition is then sent to the office of Supt. Hailds Pearce for approval or disapproval and, if approved, goes to Mr. Slaughter who does the actual ordering. Materials are listed on a regular order form which is approved by the superintendent and principal and bills for same are paid upon receipt of statement, invoice and purchase order, after checking to make sure all is in order. Checks for this type license are written in the business office and are signed by the president and secretary of the board of trustees.

The same procedure is followed with reference to the ordering of teaching supplies and transportation supplies.

The payroll is prepared and approved by the superintendent's office and is then sent to the business office where checks are written. When complete, checks are signed by the president and secretary of the board and then delivered to teachers and other personnel.

The athletic fund is handled exclusively by the business office, the manager of which is responsible for all gate receipts from various events throughout the year and for the disbursement of funds. Requests are made for all items of expense in this department and, when approved by Supt. Pearce, are paid by the business manager who signs athletic fund checks.

Cafeteria expenses including payroll and bills for food, etc. for all cafeterias in the system are centralized under one fund and are paid by the business manager.

The activity fund, mentioned briefly above, includes all monies raised by various classes and clubs as well as money collected at the start of the school year from students and used by teachers to purchase supplies for the school room. This is carried in a separate account, is deposited with the business office and distributed to the schools. Checks for these purchases are written and signed by Mr. Slaughter.

And so, a complex and exacting job is carried out in a well-ordered and efficient manner by the office of the business manager of the McKinney Independent School District.

Series Begins On Ways To Combat Juvenile Delinquency

JUDGE SARAH HUGHES

(Editors Note: This is the first of a series of articles on the state's growing problem of juvenile delinquency by one of Texas' foremost authorities on the subject, District Judge Sarah T. Hughes of Dallas, who has handled more than 25,000 juvenile and family relations cases, along with an even greater number of other civil cases in 22 years on the bench. "Family law is probably that most important phase of the law," says this internationally known jurist, whose work has been honored in Europe and Asia as well as the United States, and whose name was put in nomination for the vice presidency of the United States in 1952. A discussion of a different aspect of the problem will appear every other week.)

Many helpful things can be done to counteract our mushrooming problem of juvenile delinquency—and they must be done bly individuals and organizations, as well as by parents.

In fact, I have become somewhat irriatated with parents getting so much of the blame for this problem. The changed conditions of modern times impose a great responsibility on the community as well as on parents, and we as members of the community must examine the need and get providing more of the remedy.

For instance, more boys are arrested for auto theft than for any other crime. Unlocked parked cars are a great temptation for boys who have time on their hands and yearn for a car of their own.

How do the changed conditions of living and of children's growing up affect our youngsters? In the generations immediately past, children had a big place in family life: They had jobs to do—many important chores around the home and, often the farm—and so a child had the sense of importance, of his own worth, that all of us must have. There was little time for the idleness that breeds mischief.

Today is marked by the industrialization of cities, the high percentage of cars available to teenagers, movies, picture books TV (much of all this with subject matter beyond the adolescent's ability not to grasp but to digest properly not to grasp but to digest properly) and very few chores around the home. So the job of the parent is much more difficult today than it used to be—and much more time-consuming.

What is the responsibility of the community? It is to counteract these changed conditions with all the insight that it can summon and with all the means that it can muster, in a deeply serious effort. Here are some suggestions I have developed from the thousands of juvenile cases that have come before me in my 22 years of handling civil cases as a district judge in one of the populous of our state:

1. We mut provide much more thoroughly for the time that young people have on their hands these days by establishing and supporting far more widely and completely than we now do such character-building organizations as Boy Scouts, Girl Scouts, YMCA, Junior Achievement, club gardens, etc.

2. We must provide more community centers, "teen canteens," parks, schools, churches. And these youth centers must be organized in units small enough for adequate supervision so that they themselves do not become centers for delinquency.

3. As well as offering organization and leadership in these group projects, the community's individuals must try to make themselves good friends to children on a personal basis, must listen to them, share, with them, encourage them, give them jobs.

4. But the community's responsibility doesn't end with the provision of character-building facilities. The community must provide more adequately by far than we now do for those who become delinquent. We must increase detention facilities and raise the number of parole officers, among other things. We have come a long way from 1828 when, in New Jersey, a 13-year-old boy was hanged for theft. But we have a long way still to go.

How we can get on the road will be discussed in my next article.

Fire Destroys Home, All Contents Of Lucas Colored Family

Henry and Evalena Green colored residents of the Lucas Community, Route No. 2, McKinney, Texas, lost everything they possessed Thursday, October 10th when their house was destroyed by fire while they were in the field picking cotton.

Kenneth Lewis, their landlord, said the family had just bought new school clothes for their children and new winter clothes for themselves and had all of these items paid for, and lost everything except the clothes they were wearing. Besides their clothes they lost a 1-year-old butane gas cook stove, electric refrigerator, dinette set, 2 half beds and mattresses, 1 bedroom suite, complete, 1 full size bed, mattress and springs, sewing machine, washing machine, electric iron, dishes, quilt box filled with quilts, over 200 jars of canned foodstuff which Evalena had canned this summer, trunk and clothes locker, and other items.

Hard luck has dogged this family it seems. Henry was in the hospital last year for surgery and was out for some time and Evalena underwent surgery about a month ago but had been pulling bolls to help pay the household expenses and buy clothes for the winter.

Anyone who has good clothes which they would like to give to someone in need, this family can use them. It is asked that they be clean and in good repair because the mother has no way of mending torn or ragged clothes and no money to pay for cleaning. The children consists of four girls and two boys, with the girls ranging in ages 14, 11, 9, and 2. The boys are 7 and 4 years of age. The girls wear dresses in sizes 14, 12, 10, 2 and shoes in sizes 6 or 6½, 2 or 2½ and boys 2 and 1½. The mother will wear a dress size 16 or 18 and size 8 shoes. The father wears 29 waist and 30 length pants and about size 10 shoe.

Mrs. Norman Pharr, mother-in-law of Kenneth Lewis, has offered to receive items that you might have to give this colored family, but please remember that only those items that are in good condition and clean are requested. If you have anything to give the Green famliy, then take it to Mrs. Norman Pharr, 407 West Davis, McKinney.

LIONS LOSE HEARTBREAKER TO GARLAND OWLS 7-6

By NORMAN SCOTT

Mike Gieb's successful extra point kick meant the difference as the Garland Owls, 1956 AAA State Champions, came from behind for a 7-6 victory over the McKinney High Lions at Williams Stadium in Garland Friday night before approximately 7,000 fans.

OWLS MARCH 81 YARDS.

Trailing 6-0, the Owls gained possession on their 19 late in the third period after the Lions fell 1-yard short of a first at that point, and marched 81 yards in a 20-play sustained drive climaxed when halfback Bobby Norvell plunged through an opening at left tackle, on fourth down, for the final six inches and the touchdown. Gieb sent a perfect placement kick through the uprights. Norvell and his running mate, halfback Chock Bailey, carried on every play except for two carries by fullback Chock Bailey, carried on every play except for two carries by fullback Jon Overstreet, in the march, featured by a 23-yard scamper by Norvell that pushed the Owls to the Lions 34. A 5-yard off side penalty against the Lions, after the Owls moved to McKinney's nine for a first, proved costly although they put up a determined goal line stand before Norvell was able to plunge across the double-stripe on the fourth try.

LIONS MOVE 70 YDS. FOR TD.

After a scoreless first half that saw the clock run out on the Lions at intermission with a first down on the Owl 15, McKinney came storming back with the second half kick-off and moved 70 yards, in 17 plays, for their touchdown, climaxed by a 6-yard pass from quarterbock Robert Joplin to end Jerry Miller who made a good catch in the end zone. Jerry Kruse returned the kick-off to the Lion 30 to get the drive underway, and halfbacks Kenneth Locke and Charlie McEntire, and fullback Bob Byrd alternated in moving the pigskin for a first and goal on the Owl 8 with an 18-yard jaunt by Byrd the top gainer. From the 8, Joplin pitched back to McEntire who passed incomplete to Locke on the first play. Byrd then picked up 2 up the middle to the 6, and Joplin connected with Miller for extra point try was blocked by the center of the Owl line, led by guard Jerry Scoggins. The March consumed 8:20 of the third stanza.

The Lions failed to capitalize on a break shortly after their score when tackle Charlie Powell recovered an Owl bobble on the Garland 27 on the first play after the ensuing kick-off. Byrd and McEntire combined with 3-yard blasts up the middle to the Owl 21 before coach Joe Simpson sent in his second unit to take over. Halfbacks Tommy Crutcher and C. W. Williams could pick up only two yards and the Lions were short of a first by a yard on the 19 from where the Owls started their 81-yard TD drive late in the third period.

LIONS FINAL BID FAILS.

After the Owls touchdown, and with 5:46 left in the game, the Lions tried desperately to pull the game out of fire but a final bid, starting from their own 36, fizzled out on the Owl 16. Byrd, Locke and McEntire again alternated in carrying the pigskin, with a 11-yard pass completion from Joplin to McEntire chipped in for a first on the Owl 20 with less than 2 minutes left. From the 20, McEntire and Byrd picked up 4 steps each to place the ball on the 12 and it looked like the Lions were headed for a marker but outside linebacker Mike Greene broke through and spilled Joplin for a 4-yard loss on an attempted pass play. With fourth and six on the Owl 16, Joplin again rolled out for a pass but was rushed badly, getting off a wobbly pass that was intercepted by Baily on the goal line with only 18 seconds remaining in the game. Bailey returned the interception out to about Owl 5, and time ran out on the next play.

DEFENSIVE STANDOUTS.

Although the over-all defensive work by both elevens was commendable, ends Wharton and Miller, tackle Charlie Powell, Ben Pior and Phillip Wilson, alternating at middle guard, linebackers Byrd, Joplin, and Kruse, looked the most impressive for the Lions; while for the Owls, in their forward wall, Gieb was their standout, and linebackers Ronnie Rogers and Green turned in sterling performances.

McKINNEY DOMINATES.

The Lions were on the short end of the score, but acually they outplayed the Owls, getting off 64 offensive plays to the Owls 44. They bottled up the Owls except for the scoring drive, holding the Owls to only two first downs from early in the first period to late in the third. The Garland eleven managed only eight first downs all night, five of which came during their 81-yard march. Garland had 125 rushing, and only 10 passing on 1 completion in 5 attempts; while the Lions showed 12 first downs on 170 rushing, and 37 in the air on 5 completions in 13 tries.

Jack Weeks' Sausage A Home Product For Forty Years

Jack Weeks, famous for the pure pork sausage which he produces, is observing his 40th anniversary as a business concern in McKinney. Mr. Weeks' reputation is known throughout the United States where he has regular customers using the homemade, country flavored goodness of this McKinney product.

In the advertising columns of the Daily Courier-Gazette and Weekly Democrat-Gazette, Mr. Weeks calls attention to this anniversary occasion, and expresses his deepest appreciation to the grocerymen, and general public, for their wonderful patronage during these forty years.

Mr. Weeks began the sausage-making business here in 1918 when he was in partnership with Ed Ashley. At that time a hand-grinder was used to prepare the meat. The business grew, and in 1928 Mr. Weeks bought out the interest of his partner, operating under the name of Jack Weeks Sausage. He has continually expanded the business, modernized with the installation of newer equipment, until today he has one of the most complete refrigerated plants of the kind in this section. It is located adoming his residence at 1207 Cole Street, at the South end of Waddill Street.

Mr. Weeks also operates a refrigerated truck to carry his "whole hog pure pork" sausage to customers within a 40-mile radius of McKinney, and during the Fall and Winter months sends shipments of the product to almost every state in the Union.

Mr. Weeks is operating under the first State Health Permit ever issued for making and selling homemade sausage, Permit No. 1. The product is seasoned "hot" or "mild" to suit the tastes of his customers. Associated with Mr. Weeks in operating the business are Jim L. Ferguson, William Crim and J. D. Hale.

The clean plant is open for inspection at all times, and the general public is invited to come by at any time and see the processing of this delightful table delicacy.

Jack Weeks, a native of Collin County, is the son of the late Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Weeks, pioneer settlers of the old Vineland Community. He has lived in or near McKinney all of his life, and has taken an interest in the religious and civic affairs of the community. His integrity of character as well as his ability to work, have resulted in a successful business career for Mr. Weeks, who in turn has served his customers well, and given to them a delectable food product.

Dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Robinson and children Sunday were Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Chandler of Arlington, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Chandler and daughter, Linda, of Keene, New Hampshire, Mrs. Earl Rose and daughter, Kathy of Anchorage, Alaska and Mr. and Mrs. George Chandler of Route 5 McKinney. Other guests for the afternoon were Mrs. Kirby Howard and Mr. and Mrs. Leon Howard, of Celina, and Mr. and Mrs. Monroe Howard and children of McKinney.

East Collin Town Progresses With-Out Indebtedness

The following news item in the Greenville Herald-Banner concerns Farmersville, thriving and progressing East Collin town. Herman Scott, wrote the item which was capitioned "Farmersville Boasts No Taxable Debt."

With due credit to the writer, we pass the article on to our readers as follows:

It's unusual for a town the size of Farmersville to be getting along—making progress—without any taxable bonded indebtedness. But that's the situation here.

Farmersville owes some money, of course, but the debt is represented by revenue bonds, and these can not be retired except when they are due. The indebtedness, amounting to about $110,000 is for a big diesel engine in the municipal power plant, which was installed about three years ago.

"We'd like to pay a couple of years in advance and cut the indebtedness down on the revenue bonds," said Mayor R. B. Beaver. "But the bond holders won't let us—they want their money only as the bonds mature."

◆ ◆ ◆

LOW INTEREST RATE.

For the first five years the city is paying 2½ per cent interest on the 10-year bonds, and the interest will be hiked to three per cent during the second period of five years. "That's mighty cheap money," Mayor Beaver remarked "You can't borrow on such a low interest rate these days."

The mayor relates an amusing incident in connection with the city's retirement of it's last taxable bonds several years ago. "We paid off $40,000 worth of bonds, and one of the bond holders threatened to sue us because we did so," he remarked. Those bonds, issued for water and sewer improvements purposes, were drawing 6 per cent interest.

◆ ◆ ◆

LAWYER BALKED.

A balking Dallas lawyer, who owned part of the bonds, caused some trouble, but finally had to give in. "He failed to read the fine print", said the mayor.

The bonds were issued on a 40-year maturity basis, callable in 30 years. "By paying them off at the end of 30 years we saved $2400 a year for 10 years, and we thought that was good business," Mayor Beaver commented.

Farmersville undoubtedly has passed the 2,000 mark in population—it had 1955 when the 1950 census was completed. The town's municipal power plant serves 1,-025 meters.

The municipal power plant is an asset that city officials an dthe citizens in general are proud of "We're pulling everthing in town—the ice plant, and all other industries," Mayor Beaver remarked.

Peak load at the power plant during the summer of 1957 was 950 KW's. "But our plant has a capacity of right close to 2,000 KW's. For safe operation any power plant should have double its peak in power," the mayor said.

The plant is operated on a 24-hour basis, in shifts of eight hours each.

LOW TAX RATE.

Farmersville's tax rate is $1.20 on the $100 valuation, and the municipal government operates without going into debt with the money collected on this rate. Not long ago all streets here were reworked, and the taxpayers were not called on for any additional revenue.

A member of the North Texas Municipal Water District, which supplies wate a about a dozen towns in this section of the state, including Dallas, Farmersville has no water worries, whereas it was out of water 18 months ago. From it's water fund it has to pay the district $1100 a month for the water it is obligated to take from sprawling Lake Lavon. "That comes out of our revenue whether we use the water or not," said Mayor Beaver.

Mrs. Hulett Jones Of Allen Dies In Baylor Hospital

Mrs. Fannie Edith Jones, 84, R-1, Allen, died at 1:25 a. m. Thursday in Baylor Hospital. She was born October 18, 1872 in Missouri, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John W. Lewis but had lived in Allen most of her life. She married Hulett Jones December 15, 1892. He died in 1944. She was a member of the Baptist Church.

Surviving daughters are Mrs. Marie Angle, Mrs. J. A. Bozeman, Mrs. W. C. Savell, all of Dallas; Mrs. Doyle Williams of Richardson, Mrs. Ralph Carter of Fort Worth; sons, Carl Jones of McKinney; Cliff Jones of Aubrey; Shaffer Jones, R-1, Allen; 13 grandchildren, 19 great grandchildren.

Funeral services were at 2 p. m. Friday at Allen Baptist Church with burial in Rowlett Cemetery, Turrentine-Jackson Funeral Directors in charge.

Mrs. Nellie Ritch, Mrs. Sherwood Day and Mrs. Vena Phillips are enjoying a few days vacation in the Ozarks.

LETTERS FROM . . .

THE PEOPLE

To Daily Courier-Gazette, Publication:

If you will please allow me a few sentiments of expession on a distasteful subject, we'll be glad.

It looks like-on the face of it; that a Northern organization known as NAACP, headquarters in New York City; is about to play into the hands of Communistic agents-in having their "hey-day" in disintegrating all white schools through the medium of nine members of the U.S. Supreme Court and the Federal Courts of different States. This is just one step toward miscegegation.

Now the South an rightful thinking people of any State, will not "swallow such a bitter dose" in a placating way of approval.

Where is our National Constitution and sacred Bill of Rights, along with Constitution of each State and States Rights? Are those Courts placing a different interpretation on same, ignoring the rights of the white race also? My understanding in the matter, the majority of the negro race-as well as that of the white race, are for segregation of both races. Why not have a general election letting the voice of the people decide this question and issue for the masses of the constituency of U.S. Government of America is 'the law of the land' and not the subversive minority group. Voice of an humble citizen.

East Collin Town Boasts All Streets In Good Condition

The thriving little East Collin City of Farmersville is one of the few towns in North Texas which does not have street troubles. In fact the town boasts that the streets are ideal for demonstrations of used automobiles.

At a cost of $20,000, and with no extra charge to the taxpayers, every street in Farmersville has been repaired and resurfaced. "Our streets are in better condition than they have ever been," said R. B. Beaver, Farmersville's alert mayor.

The street improvement program, necessitated by damage which was followed by a long drought, followed by heavy rains in the spring of 1957, embraced every street in town. "We resurfaced eight miles of streets," Mayor Beaver commented.

The street improvement work was in charge of E. R. Hartley of McKinney, by contract.

"Paid for it out of the general fund, plus a little we had to borrow from the light department," said Mayor Beaver. The city can transfer funds from its light department when it is considered necessary.

The Farmersville streets were improved with a sealed coating, chat, a penetrating and heavy asphalt.. Some streets were scarified and reshaped, cracks in the old asphalt were sealed and new coats applied. "We did this same job about eight years ago" the mayor said.

At the beginning of the program it was planned to do only the necessary repairing. "But we finally decided that all streets needed work, and that we could save money by putting all of the improvements into one contract," Mayor Beaver explained.

Mayor Beaver Says He Will Retire At End Of Tenure

Mayor R. B. Beaver of Farmersville has announced that he will not be a candidate for re-election when the City election is held there next Spring. The popular East Collin Mayor has served that post for 16 years and says "I think I have served long enough."

Some of the townspeople at Farmersville are openly expressing the hope that the mayor will reconsider. There's even, at this early date, a little talk of drafting him if he fails to have his name placed on the ticket.

"That's a big business down there at City Hall, and I don't know who we could get to do the job that Mayor Beaver is doing," said one Farmersville business man. "I think he has done a wonderful job."

Meanwhile, as another merchant pointed out, city politics will not warm up for several months, "and a lot of things could happen" to persuade the mayor to change his mind. The general attitude is "wait and see."

Another elective city official, City Secretary Welch Evans, says he does not plan to run for election when his term expires. "There's alot of bookkeeping work in this office," he said. However, Mr. Evans' term does not run out until the spring of 1959.

Mr. and Mrs. Bill Hudson and daughter, Mrs. Frank McDonald, of Fort Worth, were guests Sunday of Mrs. Hudson's brother, W. W. Stogdill and Mrs. Stogdill in the Milligan community.

New Feed Wheat Law Goes In Effect Beginning In 1958

Recent legislation permits farm operators whose wheat allotments are less than 30 acres to grow up to 30 acres of wheat for use exclusively on the farm where produced, advises Clarence R. Hillis, Chairman, Collin County ASC. The new provision applies beginning with the 1958 crop of wheat and does not apply to 1957 and prior crops of wheat.

This same legislation provides that in 1958 and future years wheat acreage in excess of the farm wheat allotment shall not be considered in establishing state, county, and farm acreage allotments.

To be eligible to participate in the 30-acre provision for 1958, farm operators must sign an agreement not later than the seeding date or October 15, 1957, and the agreement must be approved by the ASC county committee. The agreement provides that the entire crop of wheat must be used on the farm where produced for seed, feed, or human food. If more than 30 acres of wheat are produced, the agreement is violated, and if any of the wheat from the 30 acres is sold, bartered, or exchanged, the agreement is violated. None of the wheat from an agreement farm is elegible for price support. The farm operator may not execute an agreement if he is participating in the Wheat Acreage Reserve. The operators of areement farms will be required to make a report of disposition of all wheat on the farm by not later than September 1, 1959 for the 1958 crop.

All other provisions of the wheat acreage allotment and marketing quota programs remain in effect, including the 15-acre exemption provision and the 200-bushel exemption provision.

Undesirable Wheat Under '58 Crop Price Support Program

The Department of Agriculture has announced a discount for varieties of wheat designated as undesirable under the 1958-crop wheat price support program, advises P. L. Barksdale, Office Manager, Collin County ASC.

It has been determined that a 20 per cent bushel discount from the applicable support price shalll be made for the varieties of wheat which have been named as undesirable and which are tendered for price support under the 1958-crop wheat price support program. It has also been determined that no portein or amber or hard amber durum premiums will apply to any of the undesirable varieties. Under the 1958-crop wheat price support program 8 new varieties have been added to the list of 23 varieties designated as undesirable under the 1957-crop wheat price support program. New Scottish Rite Hospital Film Has Been Released

A new film in color which tells the remarkable story of the Texas Scottish Rite Hospital for Crippled Children was released this week, according to President John McKee of Dallas, and deputy for the Sovereign Grand Inspector General in Texas of the Scottish Rite.

Produced by PLAX Productions in association with Metro Enterprises of Texas, "A New Life tomorrow" is a 16mm sound film, which in 20 minutes depicts how thousands of Texas boys and girls have been helped to lead healthy, normal lives. The film will be available for schools, luncheon clubs and other organizations, Mr. McKee said.

The Scottish Rite Hospital, founded at Dallas 34 years ago by Texas Scottish Rite Masons to provide treatment for children who otherwise would not receive aid necessary for rehabilitation, is open to crippled children of all faiths and creeds "It is a Texas institution, supported by Texans; a quite spectacular accomplishment of which all Texans should be apprised and appreciative," Mr. McKee said at the previewing of the film yesterday.

The film will be available through the office of Asher Mintz, Secretary of the Scottish Rite Hospital at Dallas.

NEWS FROM THE BOARD OF SUPERVISORS —of— THE COLLIN CO. SOIL CONSERVATION DIST.

The time for planting winter legumes is slipping by on those farmers who plan to plant this fall. "They should be planted as soon as possible and not later than November 30, if maximum growth is to be expected," states M. W. Liston, Work Unit Conservationist of the Soil Conservation Service office at McKinney.

Local Soil Conservation Service technicians are urging all farmers to plant winter legumes, such as Austrian Winter Peas or Vetch. These legumes not only improve the soil by increasing the fertility and organic matter, but furnish a cover for protection against erosion during the winter months.

Farmers who have planted and fertilized winter cover crops regularlarly are well sold on the benefits of this soil building practice. A few of these farmers are: Ernest Donihoo of Climax community, L. A. Billings of Chambersville, C. B. Fulfer, north of Weston, Herman Robinso nand L. V. Cole near Rhea Mills, Wilford Gray of Aitoga, and Paul Gene Litchford of McKinney.

Several farmers have been applying the "Harbers Method" of palnting winter peas and vetch in the past years. This is done by deep placing the fertilizer and plnating legumes in bands on each side of the row. Since this equipment is seldom owned by an individual farmer, the Collin Soil Conservation District has purchased two for use by cooperators in the District. If you have one of these machines not being used, notify your District Board of Supervisors or the local Soil Conservation Service office so it will be available for use by others.

History Of Hospitals Dates Back To 1134 BC

BY H. D. MOUZON

Editor's note: This is the first in a series of articles dealing with the operation of the modern hospital. In this series an effort will be made to acquaint the reader with the many and varied departments necessary to the proper functioning of Collin County's new million and a half dollar hospital now nearing completion. Other articles will appear in this newspaper from week to week.

The modern hospital of the Twentieth Century with all its uptodate methods for the treatment of disease and alleviation of suffering is a far cry from the facilities available to patients and physicians who lived in the day when the practice of medicine was new and when man first got the idea of establishing a centralized institution for the care of the sick.

Although the history of the hospital can be traced back as far as 1134 B.C. when Greek temples were used as sanctuaries for the sick and even earlier than that when Moses, in leading the Children of Israel out of Egypt, established central locations for the care of those injured in battle, the pagan god, Buddha, is credited with having erected the first buildings intended solely for the treatment of disease. In the sixth century before Christ, Buddha, according to Hindu literature, appointed a physician for every ten villages and built hospitals for the crippled and the poor and, although records are scarce, it is known that hospitals existed in Ceylon as early as 437 B.C.

Egypt, too, is known to have developed elaborate systems of medicines at a very early date, some dating back to Early Dynastic times. Patients were treated for various ailments in the temples which functioned as hospitals since they were also centers of faith healing.

It is interesting to note that the first hospitals in all sections of the world were actually an outgrowth of religion rather than of medicine although the humanitarian impulse and the development of science have been prominent factors in their establishment. With the advance of Christianity the hospital movement gained great impetus and Christian hospitals devoted entirely to the care of the sick in building separate from the church proper replaced those of Greece and Rome.

From India, Egypt, Greece and Rome the hospital movement spread to the Mohammedan countries and from there to England, France, Germany, Spain, Italy and on to America where the first hospital on this continent was built in Mexico City by Cortez in 1524. The original building exists today.

The first hospital in United States territory, so far as records indicate, was one on Manhattan Island in 1663. It was used for the care of sick soldiers. Philadelphia was the site of the first incorporated hospital in America, the Pennsylvania Hospital opened in 1755.

From this beginning the establishment of hospitals in this country has continued to grow until in 1955 there were 6,970 hospitals listed by the American Hospital Association. They had 1,577,691 beds and 97,773 bassinets. Some $12,000,000,000 is invested in hospitals in the United States and Canada and in the neighborhood of 1,250,000 persons are employed in these hospitals.

Prior to April 1, 1921, the date on which the first real hospital was opened in McKinney, patients in need of specialized care had to be taken to Fort Worth for treatment. Several local physicians maintained hospital rooms in their private homes for the convenience of patients but, for the most part, practically all treatment was administered in doctors' offices or in the homes of patients.

The original McKinney City hospital, with a bed capacity of 20 patients, was dedicated March 21, 1921, with the Hon. H. A. Finch, Sr., mayor of the city at the time, presiding. City Commissioners Sam J. Massie and Joe W. Barnes along with Howell E. Smith, president of the board of governors, participated in the ceremony. Music for the dedicatory services was furnished by the McKinney Band, directed by Prof. F. W. Barrows.

In addition to Mr. Smith, the first board of governors was composed of W. Avery Dowell, secretary-treasurer, and W. R. Abernathy, Walter B. Wilson, Henry Warden, J. A. Rountree and Ernest H. Cottrell.

The first medical staff of the hospital listed the following physicians:

Dr. E. L. Burton, Dr. D. E. Bridgefarmer, D. D. F. Houston, Bridgefarmer, Dr. R. L. Davis, Dr. J. C. Erwin, Sr., Dr. J. C. Erwin, Jr., Dr. D. F. Houston, Dr. J. W. Largent, Dr. T. W. Largent, Dr. B. F. Largent, Dr. R. W. Mathers, Dr. P. D. Robason, Dr. R. A. Verdier and Dr. W. S. Wysong, all of McKinney, and Dr. R. W. Bounds, Prosper, and Dr. C. H. Compton and Dr. M. O. Perry, both of Allen.

The first class in the School of Nursing here was opened April 1, 1921. Three students graduated June 30, 1923. In 1924 a nurses' home was erected and presented to the hospital by the late F. B. Pope.

After nearly 20 years the need for additional hospital space became mandatory and, in 1941, north and south wings were completed and occupied. The Hon. Tom W. Perkins, Sr., was mayor of the city at that time and J. W. Snapp and Lyman D. Robinson were commissioners.

In 1949 the institution was changed from a city hospital to a City-County Hospital by a vote of the people of the county and has been operated as such since that time.

And now, Collin County has again outgrown its hospital facilities. This fact became evident some time ago and machinery was put into motion to erect a completely new building with all modern facilities for the care of the sick. The result of this dream of Hospital Administrator W. S. Nichols, County Judge W. E. Button and the commissioners court and the hospital board of governors is fast materializing in the form of a magnificent 100-bed hospital costing $1,500,000, completion of which is expected during the spring of 1958. Cornerstone levelling ceremonies were held on Saturday, October 12, with the Masonic Lodge in charge. The County Hospital Board of Managers is composed of Truett Smith, Wylie, chairman; Clifford Carpenter, Farmersville, vice chairman; Paul Hardin, McKinney, secretary, and Grover Sheets, Celina, Homer Haggard, Frisco, and Anthony Geer, Anna.

Next week's article will deal with the medical records department of the local hospital.

Chamber of Commerce . . . CORNER

By PAT SIMPSON, Manager

The Greater McKinney United Fund has things humming at the Chamber of Commerce the past two weeks. The United Fund is not a part of the Chamber of Commerce but is heartily endorsed by it. The United Fund is an organization within itself, and, at present, is using office space here at the Chamber of Commerce. This is the united effort of ten charitable agencies to raise operating funds for the year 1958. Part of these agencies are national in scope, others are purely local. The greater portion of the citizens contribute to these causes—they are the people who feel the urge to do something for their fellowmen who are not as fortunate as they have been.

Unless someone has worked on several of these drives in a short period of time you cannot appreciate the value of having a one-drive campaign. It usually happens that the business people and those in jobs serving the public are called on to conduct these drives, and ten such campaigns in a year are time consuming. Most of the workers are glad to make their contribution but then comes the problem of being out of their place of business or job for several days. We should be more appreciative of their efforts.

People with various attitudes are contacted on these drives. Some will not join anything or participate in anything and tell you so; therefore, it does not take much time for them. Others will tell you to come back tomorrow or next week and ask for time to think it over. This creates a most trying situation for the worker who has made his contribution and is using time away from his business to make the calls. Then there are others who seem happy to have you call and are ready with their part, be it large or small. This seems to us the person who is really enjoying life.

One thing we have observed through ths years. Some people operate a small business and are never able to join with their community for any civic project or improvement; these same people usually operate a small business all their lives or go broke in a year or so. Now we are not saying the refusal to contribute money or join community efforts will cause defeat but the attitude we allow ourselves to take will bring success or cause defeat.
